JURORS DRAWN FOR NORRISTOWN COURT

Five Narberth and 33 Lower Merion Citizens Are on List.

SESSION IS PRECEDENT

The names of five Narberth citizens are among those drawn for jury service at the Civil Court term opening at Norristown on January 7. They are Ella Murray, Henry T. Nash, Jr., Lucy R. Rogers, Florence Heckel and Edna Selfridge.

Thirty-three Lower Merion citizens are included in the 300 Montgomery county residents drawn for jury duty during the three weeks' session of Civil Court, which will open at Norristown on January 7.

This is the first time that a session of Court has been held in January in the history of the county. Previously the first month of the year has been considered a midwinter vacation for the Judges, lawyers and Court attaches, but it is the ambition of the Judges at the coming session to clean up all cases which have been marked for trial and placed at issue during 1928, and then open the 1929 sessions in February with a clean slate.

Names of Lower Merion residents drawn for jury service are: Ross Armstrong, Arthur L. Bogartz, Joseph G. Balaity, H. Bartol Brazier, Alfred M. Collins, Alfred James, Ed. J. Kelly, James W. Laughlin, Louis C. C. Leeson, Walter A. Steever, Henry Angstadt, Henry L. Balderson, J. Heron Crosman, Mamie L. Cross, John L. Coneys, James Fallon, Sr., James M. Hull, Norman Hayes, Florence Halberstadt, Agnes C. Maguire, Frederick Stelwagon, Thomas Shallcross, Jr., Arthur E. Cheney, Thomas Cronin, Martin Connors, Edith R. Dunlap, Wilson F. Hartenbauer, Dewitt Holt, Margaret Hopper, Emily D. Jenks, Harry Lindsay, Lida Clothier Maxwell, Victoria Sutton.

NEW FIRE OUTFIT WINS RECOGNITION

Action on Penn Wynne Unit Is Recommended by Fire Underwriters.

CREATE PARKING ZONES

Formal recognition for the first time of the Penn Wynne-Overbrook Hills Fire Company was made last Wednesday night at the December meeting of the township commission. On recommendation of Chairman A. D. Warnock, of the Police and Fire Committee, the company and the limits of its territory to be served were recognized.

Formerly served by the Narberth and Ardmore companies, the district bounded by City Line, Lancaster Pike, Wynnewood road and County Line will hereafter be served by its own company, organized only recently. The limits and the company therein were first approved by the Philadelphia Suburban Fire Underwriters' Association, Mr. Warnock announced. Recognition means that the company will be eligible at some time in the near future to which at present gives $4000 each year to the other fire companies here.

Announcement was made that a no-parking zone has been established on the east side of Penn street, Bryn Mawr, from County Line to Montgomery Pike; and that a one-hour zone has been created, between 8 A. M. and 6 P. M., on the north side of Coulter avenue, Ardmore, in front of the post office.

Promote Donaghy.

The commissioners approved of the elevation of James I. Donaghy, Jr., to the rank of sergeant, effective January, at a pay of $2200. Sergeant Donaghy has been clerk in police headquarters, and will continue his duties as desk sergeant.

Following the usual six-month probation period, Officer John Kearns was voted a pay increase from $135, the initial figure of a new officer, to $160 a month.

Officer Howard L. Love was commended for his detection and

LOWER MERION FIVE WINS LEAGUE GAME

Anderson's Boys Take Opener From West Chester, 22-14.

D'AMORA IN STAR ROLE

Lower Merion High School opened its Suburban League season with a 22-14 victory last Friday at the State Armory in West Chester. Coach Harold Zimmerman sent his best lineup into the fray, although two of the boys, Kerr and Hickman, had just returned to school from an attack of grippe. The superb guarding of D'Amora and Mandes and the former's long-range shooting helped greatly in achieving victory. When West Chester advanced to the middle of the floor to break up the long shots Captain Franklin Kohlhas and his mates changed their method of attack, feeding the ball into Lockwood, who quickly ran up six points in field goals to clinch the victory.

Too much praise cannot be sung about Alfred D'Amora. Not only did he hold his opponent scoreless from the field, but he committed only one foul and that was not against his own man, while his nine points on the offensive made him the shining star of the game.

Kohlhas and Lockwood played a fine game at the forward positions, Kohlhas' floor play and Lockwood's shooting merging nicely for a winning cobination.

Sherwood and Scott divided the game at center, Scott's rugged style being the more valuable in this particularly rough game.

Henry Gane was inserted into the lineup in the place of Kohlhas for a couple of minutes during the last quarter and he showed some of the flashiest playing of the day.

Coach Anderson wil hold practice for his team at the high school gymnasium three or four times during vacation to get the boys in shape for the tilt with Noristown early in January.

Borough Taxes Due

The last day of the year, Monday, December 31, 1928, is the dead line for the payment of Borough taxes, is the word passed along by Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold this week. After December 31st the 5 per cent. penalty will be added to all Borough taxes unpaid by that date. All taxes for the year 1928 become past due on February 1, 1929, the Tax Collector added.

To facilitate the payment of taxes, the Tax Collector will be at the Narberth National Bank on Monday, December 31 from 8 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Dr. Heberling to Speak

The first of a series of talks to be given by Dr. James Heberling, of the Carter Foundation of the University of Pennsylvania, will take place on the evening of January 7 at the Narberth School at 8 P. M. These lectures are sponsored by the Mothers' Council. The subject of the first talk is "The Influence of Environment on the Child." All parents are invited.

Chosen Soccer Captain

William D. Frazier was elected captain of the Haverford College soccer team for next season at a meeting of the 14 letter men. B. Franklin Blair was elected manager and F. N. Speller, Jr., assistant manager.

Frazier is a graduate of Montgomery School, a junior, assistant basketball manager and is prominent in student activities. He was selected as All-American right halfback in soccer last year.

Recess in Cage Games

The only basketball games scheduled this week of purely local interest are two in the Main Line Church League. Yesterday St. Mary's Episcopal played the Narberth M. E. team, while today Grace Chapel meets the Narberth Presbyterian. Both contests are Narberth home games.

SIDELIGHTS UPON CHRISTMAS SEASON

The Community Carol Service, Trees, lights and Entertainments.

Though Christmas dawned mild and clear with no sign of snow, other just as important manifestations of the holiday spirit were not lacking. Foremost, perhaps, was the community carol service around the handsome new Christmas tree provided by the Women's Community Club. About 300 people, men and women, boys and girls, gathered around this tree at 7 o'clock on Christmas eve and sang the fine carols under the leadership of Bruce Carey. Special credit belongs to the two young cornet players, George Bottoms and Holmes Trautman, both students at the Valley Forge Military Academy, who aided materially at this service.

The lighted Christmas trees on lawns throughout the borough must have been an inspiring sight to Santa Claus on his journey here recently, as they certainly were and are to borough residents. It is a pleasant custom to have a lighted tree out of doors for passers-by enjoyment. The upper end of Haverford avenue was a veritable blaze of color with a tree in every yard, or else candles flaming from the windows.

Carollers were abroad from All Saints' Church helping to increase the yuletide spirit as well as other groups. A midnight carol service at All Saints called many to the pike on Christmas eve.

As for the business section of Haverford avenue, there was little room left on sidewalks on which to walk, so thick were Christmas trees lining the pavements. One wonders how any evergreens remain

CHEVROLET DEALER SHOWS NEW MODEL

Feature '29 Car in Opening of Kirsch's New Cynwyd Show Room.

With the showing of the new six-cylinder Chevrolet. 1929 model, in its show room tomorrow, the Kirsch Chevrolet Company will formally open its new building at 208 Bala avenue, Cynwyd. Extensive additions have been made by Christian H. Kirsch to the Central Garage, which he bought from John Haubert early this summer, and the work was completed this week.

In addition to the old 60 by 190-foot structure at 208 Bala avenue, which housed 40 cars, two new units have been built. To the rear is another garage, 57 by 70 feet, in which 30 cars can be stored. In front a 40 by 70-foot show room for seven cars has been constructed, with space behind the glass-enclosed show room for an office and a Chevrolet parts department, whose service facilities are available in Bala-Cynwyd, Merion and Narberth.

The building is of steel with dark yellow bricks and limestone coping and large windows in front. The Bowden Construction Company are the builders, and Savery and Scheetz are the architects.

The new Chevrolet model on display tomorrow is the one which was first placed on exhibit November 24, after having been advertised in 5500 newspapers. Because of its new devices for comfort, convenience, dependability and safety, the "six in the price range of the four" has been awarded first place in the New York Automobile Show, in which it wil loccupy the honor position next week.

MUSICAL PROGRAMS AT TWO CHURCHES

Special Services at Baptist and Methodist Churches on Sunday Evening.

BY TRIO AND QUARTET

Christmas music will be heard in two Narberth churches this Sunday. A special service of Christmas carols rendered by a quartet will be given at the Baptist Church of the Evangel on Sunday evening at 7.45 o'clock, while a Christmas musicale by the Melodique Trio will be presented at the Methodist Episcopal Church at the same hour. The public is cordially invited to these services.

The quartet at the Baptist Church will consist of the following: Mrs. John Gilbert, soprano; Mrs. Henry Van Dyke, contralto; Frank Brosius, tenor; William Tuttle, jr., baritone, and Miss Dorothy Wire, organist and director. One of the members of the Melodique Trio, Miss Ernestine B. Bacon, soprano, is a member of the Methodist Church. The other members of the trio are Miss Elizabeth Trafficante, harpist, and Miss Fanny Sharfsin, violinist.

The program for the Baptist Church carol service:

Organ prelude—"Christmas in Sicily," Pietro Yon.

Carols by the quartet:

Noble; "Cradle Hymn," Edward MacDowell; "Jesu Thou Dear Babe Divine," Haitian; "O Have Ye Heard the Tidings," XVIth Century; "Christmas Song," French; "Jesu Bambino," Pietro You; "When the Sun Had Sunk to Rest," English.

Rotarians Play Santa to Forty Youngsters

Forty youngsters enjoyed an excellent Christmas dinner and entertainment on Wednesday noon as guests of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at its Christmas meeting. Dr. E. S. Deubler acted as master of ceremonies for the day to everyone's satisfaction.

In addition to the dinner, every child received a gift from the club. Boy singers from All Saints' Church led by David Spratt, choirmaster, rendered some Christmas music while several interesting stories were told the children by Miss Mary Flynn, of Swarthmore, who is in charge of the Junior Chautauqua.

Rotarian Howard C. Cotter, of Narberth, provided the surprise of the day when he appeared on the scene playing Santa Claus to 13 youngsters.

Merion Cricket Loses

Germantown Cricket Club stars took the lead in the Women's Interclub Field Hockey League Wednesday when they trounced the Main Line eleven, 13 to 1, in a game at the Merion Cricket Club, Haverford. It was a thrilling contest for both elevens, for Germantown defeated the team that gave Merion a beating earlier in the season.

Main Line eleven staged the most thrilling play, Ruth Wilkie, former Lansdowne High School all-around athlete, ran the length of the field to score Main Line's goal, saving the latter team from a shutout score.

Award Contract

At a special meeting of council on last Wednesday evening, the contract for the collecting of garbage in the borough of Narberth during 1929 was awarded to William J. Funston, of East Conshohocken. Mr. Funston was low bidder among the bids submitted at the December meeting of council with a bid of $3600. David C. Wilfong, who had the contract for 1928, was high bidder for 1929 with a figure of $4800.

RECORD MAIL WAS HANDLED EASILY

made last Wednesday at the

TOOK IN $1000 A DAY

The commodious new quarters of the Narberth Post Office and the efficiency of the men enabled the local office to handle the greatest volume of Christmas mail in its history with unprecedented ease. Not only was the Post Office never behind in delivery or dispatching of mail, but everything was cleaned up by Christmas Eve.

Postmaster J. Bertram Nesper reports that packages were wrapped better than ever. There was little or no trouble on that score, he said. The seventeenth to the twenty-second were the biggest days of the rush, the receipts at the Post Office being approximately $1000 per day for that period. The four deliveries of mail on Sunday, a new wrinkle this year, aided materially in cleaning up late mailings.

A $1500 increase in business for this month is reported by the postal authorities as opposed to the similar period last year. This will bring the total business for the year at the local office to about $34,000. On a yearly basis, this represents a $5000 increase over 1927.

Christmas cards the Post Office says are more popular than ever. From the eighteenth to the twenty-fourth, the first class mailings totaled from 10,000 to 14,000 a day.

Keeping the Post Office window open evenings from the nineteenth to the twenty-fourth aided many tardy shoppers, while the splendid delivery service of parcel post was largely due to the efficient work of the small army of extra workers, many of them college students home for vacation.

MERION PROTESTS APARTMENT HOUSE

Neighbors and Civic Association Voice Objections at Hearing.

DECISION IS DEFERRED

Casper W. B. Townsend's plea for a change of zoning classification for his 3.624-acre property was snowed under by his indignant Merion neighbors at a public hearing held before the regular December meeting of the Lower Merion Township Commission, Wednesday night, in Ardmore. No decision was given by the commissioners, but it seemed a foregone conclusion at the end of the testimony that the plea would be rejected.

In order that Mr. Townsend's attorney, Aaron S. Swartz, Jr., of Norristown, might have an opportunity to file a brief combatting that filed at the hearing by William J. Conlen, decision was made to give the matter further consideration at a special meeting to be held 8 P. M., Thursday, December 27. The unofficial opinion voiced by one commissioner was that this step was taken in order to give the plaintffs no ground whatever for filing an appeal based on legal technicalities, when the petition is rejected.

Mr. Townsend, who appeared at the meeting, was represented by his attorney; opposing them was the aroused public opinion of Merion, voiced by John Dashiell Myers, representing the Merion Civic Association, of which he is president, and several of its directors and members; William J. Conlen, attorney for 19 owners of adjoining properties, and several of the property-owners themselves.

Mr. Swartz asked that the Townsend property, for a depth of 200 feet, along City Line from Merion to Blancoyd roads, be given a "C" instead of an "A" zoning classification, in order that the property might be sold and an apartment house constructed on it. His grounds: That the proposed structure would not be detrimental to good health, safety or morals.

Mr. Conlen replied that the zone

Considerable credit is due at the close of the Board of Trade campaign to the men behind the scenes who helped to put it over "big." The 63 additional prizes were secured largely through the good offices of J. Bertram Nesper and Marios Chios. In addition to the good will of the merchants who put up these added valuable prizes, the work of rounding them up devolved upon Mr. Nesper and Mr. Chios. So if some one has to console himself with a ton of coal or a basket of fruit or what not, instead of the Ford, he may thank these gentlemen.

W. Russell Green likewise deserves the community's thanks for his share of the work on Wednesday night which was considerable. Reading aloud 204 numbers of six figures each is no small task and the clear loud tone of his voice was a joy to those who were following it closely and their number was legion.

As treasurer of the campaign, J. L. McCrery, had a very important but little appreciated task. He, too, deserves much credit for his share in the campaign.

The Board of Trade believes that the donation of these 68 prizes has been most successful in focusing the attention of Narberth residents on the advantages of buying at home, not only during the Christmas season, but throughout the year, for the prizes were in addition to the sterling value of the service of the storekeepers of N[illegible]

WEEKLY HEALTH TALK

Dr. Theodore B. Appel Urges Yearly Physical Examination.

"The Christmas season with its spirit of good will and charity to others is an excellent time to consider a good deed toward one's self. Having made others happy, it is not out of place to turn the same attention upon ourselves," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, Secretary of Health, Wednesday.

"And this could in no manner be better expressed than by giving careful consideration to the advantages of the annual physical examination—then acting upon it

"If someone were to say that by traveling a certain road death would likely follow, everyone undoubtedly would detour. However, that is just where the practical difficulty lies in developing the necessary amount of enthusiasm on the part of the average person for the annual physical inquiry. The body is frequently silent on the question. It offers no warning whatsoever.

"Nevertheless, it is the latent defect that later comes to the surface in an irremediable form. And it is right here that the power of heart disease, cancer, tuberculosis, diabetes and other killers has its surest footing.

"It may be blissful to be ignorant of the beginning of a fatal malady but it certainly isn't folly to be wise to a condition which if caught early by the practiced eye of the physician can be arrested or cured.

"Life is sweet these days. To live long in a fine state of health is the supreme blessing compared to which all others fade.

"The annual physical examination may be the means of achieving this end. Use it for your life's sake!"

TEACH CHILDREN SOUND PRACTICES

State Education Department Outlines Program for Guidance.

"Train a child in the way in which it should go" is the old Biblical injunction being followed by the directors of elementary and kindergarten education in the Department of Public Instruction.

Miss Helen Purcell, the director, has outlined definite aims and practices to be instilled into young minds upon their first contact with the world outside the home.

The program is aimed to develop qualities of ideal American personality as these qualities operate in moral and civic life.

Under the plan children are taught to be "fair, truthful, courteous, kindly, reliable, thrifty, courageous" and the other qualities which it is believed are essential to good citizenship.

The qualities are divided into the following two classes:

1. Characteristics that civilized peoples, in general, accept as eminently desirable: The individual who possesses these characteristics is honest, self-respecting, fair, truthful, courteous, kindly; is reliable, charitable, thrifty, courageous, self-controlled, persistent; gives credit where credit is due, has a sense of duty; has strong family feelings; has self-protecting recreational assets; is a faithful worker, whatever his field of work may be.

2. Characteristics specifically essential to the highly effective American citizen: The individual who possesses these characteristics is conscious of his responsibility as a member of a universal, governing class; appreciates the attainments and possibilities of the nation; consistently expresses his convictions through the ballot; is a defender of the right; considers the greatest good in his political judgment; seeks the highest possible operation of law and order; has knowledge of current problems affecting the nation and the world; actively seeks the truth; analyzes the needs of the community, State and nation; is capable of successful teamwork; appreciates the need for community health; recognizes the dignity of labor; protects children in their right to physical and mental development; appreciates the relationship between self-government and education.

To accomplish these aims, effective instruction is an essential requisite. Good teaching is accordingly defined as a common sense problem subject to test on a common sense basis. Stress has been placed on the need for school work that will thoroughly and effectively meet the standards that society has set for itself.

ARCHITECTS THEN AND NOW

By Sherman G. Coates.

The architectural profession is just beginning to come back into its own after centuries of unrecognition. In ancient days an architect was a master builder, but that did not mean, as it does now, a combination of mason, carpenter and plumber. He was an artist, a sculptor and an engineer—a man of high gifts and culture. The buildings he left behind him are masterpieces of artistic beauty and engineering skill. And why shouldn't it be just as important for our buildings to be beautiful as our paintings? More important, in fact, since we have to live in them, work in them, worship in them and learn in them. They are nearly all of our life, whereas a picture that we look at only now and then is a mere fraction of our life.

The Renaissance was the period of highest culture in the architectural profession. Architects then were gifted in all of the arts; they were poets and essayists, sculptors, gold and silver workers, painters, "decorators" and furniture designers. They were experts in all of the graphic and plastic arts, as well as many of the crafts. Ruskin has called architecture "frozen music," so perhaps we might say that architects were musicians also! Today the profession of architecture is so complex that there is no time to cultivate any of the arts or sciences that do not directly bear upon building. This is the age of specialization, and only the exceptional individual can become expert in any but the one specialized "line" that he has chosen for his career.

During the Victorian period architecture reached the depths of bad artistry and bad taste. Monuments of ugliness sprang up all over the world and the culture of the ages was lost or forgotten. Some 40 years ago, however, universities began the study of architecture as an art, and a slow progress out of the mire of ugliness began. In the last 15 or 20 years rapid strides have been made and a new type of architecture evolved—our own "vertical" or "skyscraper" style for public and commercial buildings. And though old traditions of Gothic, Spanish, Colonial, etc., are still adhered to, they have been carefully studied and are being skillfully adapted to modern conditions while still retaining all their original charm and grace.

A New Year's Thought

A NEW YEAR is like a hill of driven snow — not a footmark or path to mar its pure whiteness.

It is like a sheet of artist's paper, smooth and clean, before pen or brush has made its transforming mark.

It is opportunity, rich and golden, for those who want to start entirely new in the pursuit of their particular kinds of Happiness.

So we wish you "Godspeed" through the coming year, hoping that you may see your objectives clearly, pursue them diligently and culminate them successfully. Then we know 1929 will be a "Happy New Year."

NO FLU REPORTED IN LOWER MERION

Health Authorities Prepare for Possibility of Spread.

While, recently, there have been no cases of influenza reported in Lower Merion township, nevertheless health authorities are taking every percaution to prevent a dangerous situation in case the present epidemic in the Western States should spread to the Eastern section.

These precautions should be taken by the public, according to Government physicians:

1. Avoid needless contact with crowds. Walk to and from work to avoid crowds.
2. Get as much open air and sunshine as possible.
3. Sleep with windows open.
4. Avoid coughing, sneezing and sickly people.
5. Wash the hands before eating and do not put the fingers in nose or mouth.
6. Avoid shaking hands.
7. Do not use napkins, towels or eating utensils which have been used by other persons, unless they are washed or sterilized.
8. Avoid the common drinking cup.
9. Keep up a good condition of general health, use plenty of clean water inside and outside. Eat clean, wholesome food and sleep at least seven hours a day.
10. Keep away from persons who are suffering with bad colds or influenza.
11. Avoid dusty and overheated rooms.
12. In case of contracting influenza, go to bed at once.

A Christmas for Animals.

What does an animal want for Christmas?

Plenty to eat and a home.

The animals at the "Shelter" of the Delaware County S. P. C. A. are waiting for their Christmas. Tiny Tim said: "God bless us, every one," and who shall say that his Christmas prayer shall not extend to dogs, cats and horses?

The Delaware County S. P. C. A. asks its friends not to forget them this Christmas. A bag of rice, of onions, of cornmeal, stale bread, cracklings, some oats and bran, some hay and some straw for the abandoned horse that has been taken in. Any of these things would be most welcome. If it be impossible to bring the gifts to the "Shelter" on Sandy Bank road the agent will call for them at any address.

The society hopes for a response to this plea. "We speak for those that cannot speak for themselves."

The pleasant memories of last Sunday will tarry with us a long while. The church auditorium was most beautifully decorated with Christmas greens and the entire pulpit platform in white. In the morning there were over 300 present to enjoy the Christmas music and enter into the spirit of the White Life of the Christ and the worship of the new born King. In the evening at the Bible school celebration there were 447 present. Each department of the school presented with appropriate song and recitation the "White Gifts to the King," to be sent to the Presbyterian Orphanage. The pulpit platform was piled high with the white packages, and in addition, over $300 were contributed in money. The best part of the service, however, consisted in the "Gifts of Self," by 32 young people who definitely dedicated themselves to their Lord and Master.

Paper of 1889 Describes Convention That Achieved County's "Redemption"

Thirty-nine years ago, on September 24, 1889, Republicans of Montgomery county held "one of the most intelligent and orderly conventions that ever assembled in Norristown." According to the Norristown Daily Herald of that date, "the men through whose efforts has been achieved the work of redeeming Montgomery county from Democratic rule were present in force," an indication that the county was not always overwhelmingly Republican.

The convention was the leading story of the day and about the only local news on the front page of the newspaper then edited by the late Morgan R. Wills. A column of jokes and summaries of news from all over the world occupied prominent positions.

Lower Merion delegates at the convention, which met at the Court House, were W. B. Crawford, Thomas H. Barker and Thomas Cummings, of the Upper District; Edward H. Ball, E. W. Heston and John Roberts, Lower District; Richard Greenwood, John Jackson and Martin Hummel, East District; Harry L. Andrews, Joseph P. Cuthbert and Charles S. Fredericks, Ardmore District; I. N. Marshall, C. N. Barker and J. W. Arthur, Bryn Mawr District.

While it was reported that "there was considerable anxiety that the nominations should be so distributed as to bring out the full party vote in every section of the county," Lower Merion's sole candidate for the office of sheriff failed to survive the preliminaries. He was Charles W. Humphreys or Humphries, of Bryn Mawr. Mifflin A. Campbell, of Pottstown, won this nomination for which there were seven other candidates.

Running true to form for decades, but one candidate could be persuaded to stand for coroner. He was Silas Kinkiner, of Norristown. Another nomination by acclamation was that of Henry M. Brownback, of Limerick, for District Attorney.

By noon the convention had selected nominees for the several offices as follows: Henry M. Brownback, Limerick, district attorney; Mifflin A. Campbell, Pottstown, sheriff (three ballots necessary); Coroner, Silas Kinkiner, Norristown. At the end of two ballots for county treasurer, the candidates were arrayed, as follows: Samuel S. Comly, Jenkintown, 67; A. D. Godshall, Lansdale, 36½; William D. Hunsberger, Souderton, 34; Edwin S. Stahlnecker, Norristown, 100½; votes necessary to choice, 120.

At this period the convention adjourned until afternoon. Besides a nominee for county treasurer a selection was still to be made for Director of the Poor with James M. Coulston, Whitemarsh, and Harry S. Lowery, Gwynedd, as candidates.

PLENTY OF FIGHT ENJOYED BY ALL

Ice Cream Order Starts It, But Late Entries Ask No Questions.

Short days ago, one who would have some ice cream, entered a drug store in South Ardmore and ordered some chocolate and vanilla. When the dish emerged from the innermost recesses of the soda counter, it was all chocolate.

Now the man who had ordered the frozen confection was perfectly satisfied with the result. The spirit of Christmas made him feel "Good Will Toward Men." He would forget it.

Still, the desire to say something could not be stifled, and a subtle wisecrack ensued. The dusky soda clerk took this as an affront to himself and to his race. An invitation to discuss the matter in the back alley was accepted, and the battle began.

Silently the two belligerents matched blow for blow. The fight was carried from the alley to the front street, where a willing audience watched the "second battle of the century." Out of the press of the crowd came two more Negroes who thought that the fight was too much of a one-sided affair and that they should make things more even.

Up and down the street the battle waged, first the three on the one side would be ahead, then the lone eagle, fighting alone for chocolate and vanilla" would come to the fore.

Out of the East came the silent heroes. Two delivery men finishing their day's work for a city department store, saw the fight, and knowing that anyone could get into it, jumped off the truck and joined.

One policeman sauntered down from the police station, heard the story, chased the crowd, and laughed. No casualties were reported.

arrest of two thieves in Penn Wynne November 24. Announcement was made of award of a contract for construction of a sewer on Wynnewood road.

Mr. Warnock reported that an inspection Monday afternoon of all township fire houses had shown all to be in good condition, that Ardmore's fire company is in much improved financial condition, and that it contemplates purchasing new apparatus.

Chairman Andre wMacdonald, of the Finance Committee, offered out on first reading ordinance 304, which was passed, authorizing the transfer of unexpended balances as follows: $117,802.10 received from the county commissioners, to the Highway Committee; and $4500 to the administration account and $200 to the playground account, from the police and fire account. The $117,802.10 total received this year from the county was in payment of $45,000 for paving Belmont avenue; $30,000 for Montgomery pike from Spring Mill to Matsonford roads, $15,000 for Morris avenue, and $27,802.10, the county's share of building aprpoaches leading to the Green Lane bridge at Manayunk, which the county was directed to pay by the Public Service Commission.

Merion Protests Plea for Apartment House

change was opposed by his clients on the ground that it is detrimental to good health, safety and morals. Petitions of his brief, a most voluminous and comprehensive one, supporting that contention, were quoted by him in rebuttal of his opponent's statements.

Quoting from testimony given against erection of undesirable buildings across City Line from the Townsend estate, he gave the words of Caspar's father, the late J. Barton Townsend, "I think it always depreciates fine residence properties to have any kind of establishment immediately adjoining—which is objectionable for many reasons—"

"If Barton Townsend were living, he himself would object to this use of his property," he declared. "—This change is sought for three acres out of a plot of 30 acres that belonged to the very individual who segregated the 30 acres and sold 27 of them as residential districty, placed them under restriction with regard to their use, and gave his agreement to sales binding his heirs and executors to the same restrictions."

He pointed to a decision of the United States Supreme Court, rendered by Justice Sutherland, in the case of Village of Euclid, et al, v. Ambler Realty Company:

"With particular reference to apartment houses it is pointed out that the development of detached house sections is greatly retarded by the coming of apartment houses, which has sometimes resulted in destroying the entire section for private house purposes; that in such sections very often the apartment house is a mere parasite constructed in order to take advantage of the open spaces and attractive surroundings created by the residential character of the district. . . .Under these circumstances apartment houses which in a different environmen would be not only unobjectionable, but highly desirable, come very near to being nuisances."

President John Dashiell Myers, of the Merion Civic Association, declared that its membership of over 600 supports a resolution adopted at a directors' meeting December 10, of which he submitted a certified copy. It stated that "this board of directors opposes in the strongest possible terms any change affecting Merion zoning classifications, and more particularly it opposes a change in the Townsend estate."

"Every resident of Merion has an opportunity to seek a change from the proposed zone code before it was finally adopted," Mr. Myers declared. "Mr. Townsend here made no protest at that time. . . ."

Many Object.

Several nearby property owners declared their opposition to the proposed change—including: W. J. Montgomery, probably the latest purchaser of property in the neighborhood; E. M. Schmucker, who declared seven properties on Blancoyd road, now worth over a million dollars altogether, would suffer at least 20 per cent. depreciation if an apartment house were erected nearby; J. F. Schaperkotter, Edward W. Harris, who declared Barton Townsend's petition a gross impertinence, and demanded that he apologize; Walter S. Detwiler, George W. Curran, William F. Supplee, Henry R. Hallowell, by letter; John McConaghy, Jr., Frederick W. Brill, Edwin A. Bookmyer, who declared he was the first purchaser of any property in the Townsend estate, in 1912; James M. Wallace, C. T. Kline, Charles Krumrine and H. S. Scattergood, who said that if an apartment house is permitted in his neighborhood, all Merion will follow Horace Greely's advice, and "go West."

Nineteen property owners were listed on Mr. Conlen's brief, representing 90 per cent. of the immediate adjoining property near City Line and Merion road, in point of number and acres, and more than 90 per cent. in value. They are Messrs. Schenck, Harris, Kline, Scattergood, Detwiler, Evans, Bell, Hallowell, Curran, Montgomery, Wallace, Schaperkotter, Ward, Geuting, Krumrine, Degerberg, Pequignot, Supplee and Sprankle.

Signatories of the Civic Association protest, 42 in number, are as follows: Grace A. Schenck, Charles D. Evans, Ellen S. Kline, Samuel T. Scattergood, Gertrude E. Curran, Henry R. Hallowell, I. F. Schaperkotter, Emma G. Betz, T. Johnson Ward, F. C. Pequignet, Hugh Carow , Katherine M. Bye, Edward W. Bok, Charles S. Krumrine, Edwin W. Sprankle, Edward W. Harris, Greyville Haslan, headmaster of Episcopal Academy; James S. Bechtald, Mrs. Victor Mauch, Louis A. Carter, D. Webster Bell, Anna H. Bookinger, W. H. Stiegerwalt, T. Dun Belfield, William J. Montgomery, William F. Supplee, George W. Degerberg, Charles T. Vaughan, Walter A. Bailey, Edith W. Peters, Joseph H. Parvin, W. H. Folwell, Newton W. Corson, William L. Supplee, A. H. Geuting, M. J. Mulkin, George D. B. Darby, Adele W. Trumble, J. S. W. Holton, George F. Pettinos, Frederick W. Brill and Helen Scattergood.

standing after seeing the small forest that was laid low to supply the local demand.

Christmas music, decorations and entertainments vied with one another at the local churches beginning last Friday. A white Christmas service at the Presbyterian church was particularly successful, both from the point of view of attendance, the beauty of the service and the donation raised for the Presbyterian Hospital. A Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang," held the boards before an enthusiastic audience at the Baptist church.

TRAFFIC ORDINANCE WINS MUCH FAVOR

Twenty-five Features to Model Control Measure for Cities.

Believing that the model municipal traffic ordinance recently adopted by the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety under the direction of President-elect Herbert Hoover represents a forward step in motor transportation, E. T. Strong, president, and other executives of the Buick Motor Company have rallied to the support of the new measure.

"This new ordinance, it seems to me, is certain to result in a saving of human life," Strong declared, "as well as prove of great benefit to the traveling public in bringing about uniformity and clarity in traffic regulations."

The 25 high points of the new ordinance follow:

(1) Recommends the creation of an official traffic body in each city to co-ordinate all municipal agencies in matters of traffic regulation, control and enforcement.

(2) Recommends establishment of a division of traffic engineering and employment of a city traffic engineer in cities where there is a serious traffic problem.

(3) Recommends adoption of uniform official traffic signs and signals.

(4) Recommends the installation of traffic control signals on streets where traffic is heavy in order to speed up the movemnet of vehicles and safeguard pedestrians.

(5) Provides that where traffic signals are used the movement of traffic shall be directed by the words "Stop," "Go" or "Caution or Wait" or by the use of colored lights.

(6) Where colored lights are used "red" shall indicate "stop," "green" shall indicate "go" and "yellow" shall indicate "caution or wait."

(7) Provides that pedestrians shall be given the right-of-way over vehicles at all crossings, except where traffic is regulated by an officer or signals.

(8) Provides that pedestrians shall yield right-of-way to all vehicles at all places other than crossings, but drivers of vehicles must always exercise due care for safety of pedestrians.

(9) Provides that where traffic is controlled pedestrians must yield the right-of-way to vehicle proceeding under a "go" signal.

(10) Provides rules regarding past street cars and provides that vehicles must not remain on street car tracks after the street car has signalled.

(11) Provides that railway trains and street cars shall not block the streets.

(12) Provides that vehicles shall not stop in certain specified places on streets.

(13) Provides for the establishment of loading zones for passenger and freight vehicles.

(14) Busses and taxi cabs are prohibited from parking in places other than designated stands or zones, except that they may be permitted to stop at other places to take on or let off passengers.

(15) Provides that parking shall be entirely prohibited in certain places and that parking time shall be limited in certain designated places.

(16) Provides that no vehicle be permitted to park in such a manner that less than 10 feet of the width of the roadway is left available for the free movement of traffic.

(17) Provides that all-night parking be prohibited.

(18) Provides that the use of a vehicle on the streets for the primary purpose of displaying advertising shall be prohibited.

(19) Provides that all vehicles shall keep on the right side of the street, and that slow-moving vehicles keep as closely as possible to the right curb, except where conditions make it impracticable.

(20) Provides that right turns shall be made from the right-hand curb and that left turns shall be from the traffic lane nearest the center of the street. In making left turn vehicle shall pass to the right of the center of the intersection, unless otherwise directed.

(21) Provides that all left turns shall be made on the "go" signal, unless otherwise directed by a police officer.

(22) Provides that turning around shall be prohibited unless movement can be made in safety and without backing or interference with other traffic.

(23) Provides that vehicles emerging from alleys or private driveways shall stop before proceeding across sidewalk.

(24) Provides that all vehicles shall come to a stop before entering a "through street."

(25) Provides that vehicles left unattended on street shall have brakes set and engine stopped, and that parked vehicles shall be equipped with proper lights at night.
